Worksite Wellness LA is a 501(c)(3)-designated nonprofit organization founded in 1996 out of a need to bring preventive health education and access to healthcare resources to a largely Spanish-speaking population of low-income, uninsured workers in Los Angeles County. With initial programming designed to address the needs of low-income, medically underserved workers in South, Central, and East Los Angeles, our organization partnered early with many local, light-manufacturing and food packaging companies to bring their workforce lunchtime seminars about wellness and no-cost/low-cost health care services.
