

Are you in need of medical equipment, but having a hard time obtaining it through your insurance or due to financial issues?

Do you have any medical equipment that you aren't using and want to donate to our organization?

Helping Hands is a non-profit organization that assists seniors regardless of their income level, insurance or health condition so they can have access to information about resources in their community. Our DME (Durable Medical Equipment) Library helps seniors or disabled older adults get equipment they need, at no cost or fee. We accept donations of medical equipment from individuals and facilities no longer using those items, clean and sanitize them in preparation for reuse then distribute those items out to those who are in need.
